- The role of media and messaging as instruments of soft power.
- Understanding different audiences and stakeholder expectations.
- Developing clear, concise, and strategic messages, including for sensitive situations.
- Translating complex institutional messages into clear and accessible communication.
- Building message consistency across television, digital, and social platforms.
- Maintaining message discipline and institutional credibility under pressure.
- Ongoing observation of communication strengths, leadership presence, and spokesperson potential.

Activity: Practical strategic messaging exercises and feedback.

Day 3 - UAE National Narrative & Digital Communication

- Understanding the UAE National Narrative, its key themes, and strategic priorities.
- Aligning institutional messaging with the UAE National Narrative and national priorities.
- Translating institutional priorities into clear, credible, and audience-relevant messages.
- Communicating the national narrative with confidence, clarity, and consistency across media and digital platforms.
- Masterclass with Mohammed Al Hammadi and a moderator from MOD.

Activity: Simulation of stories told for different audiences: internal stakeholders, the public, and officials.

Day 4 - Practical Media Simulation: Interviews & Press Engagement

■ 1. Individual Interviews - Sky News Arabia Studios

- Individual mock interviews in a full broadcast environment.
- Applying key messaging, executive presence, and on-camera communication.
- Handling realistic media questions and follow-ups.

■ 2. Paired Interview - Sky News Arabia Studios

- Participants rotate between spokesperson and interviewer roles.
- Practicing questioning, follow-up, and response techniques in a controlled media environment.

■ 3. Press Conference Simulation - Press conference venue

- Realistic Ministry of Defence press conference with multiple reporters.
- Responding to questions from the media while maintaining message clarity and control.
- One participant plays the role of the spokesperson at a time, while the remaining participants rotate through the roles of press, officials, and the public, ensuring that each participant experiences the full range of roles throughout the exercise.

■ 4. Full Production Environment

- Full broadcast setup, including studio lighting, earpiece, camera crew, and continuous recording.
- Individual interview performances, with the remaining participants observing.
- Ongoing feedback throughout the day.

Day 5 - Executive Media Assessment: Under Pressure & Tough Questions

■ 1. Individual High-Pressure Media Interviews - Sky News Arabia Studios

- Realistic television interviews representing the Ministry of Defence.
- Challenging and persistent questioning.
- Maintaining clarity, confidence, and message discipline under pressure.

■ 2. Paired Interview with Tough Questions & Unexpected Situations - Sky News Arabia Studios

- Responding to unexpected questions and changing scenarios.
- Handling difficult follow-ups, pushback, and challenging lines of questioning.
- Maintaining institutional credibility in high-pressure situations.

■ 3. Press Conference during critical situation - Press conference venue

- Unannounced hostile-media interventions designed to test composure and response under pressure.
- Reporters challenge responses and push back on statements within a realistic media environment.
- Participants are not informed in advance of the critical situation.

■ 4. Feedback & recommendations

- Individual development recommendations and next-step training priorities.

Note:

The above Sky News Arabia studio-based activities may be adjusted in sequence depending on the studios' availability, as they are used for breaking news and live broadcasts.

Talent Identification:

A post-training report will be submitted to MOD, identifying 3-4 standout officers with strong communication potential for consideration for future spokesperson development.

TOTAL INVESTMENT				AED 337,500

What the Investment Includes

Full design and delivery of the five-day program by IMI Media Academy certified expert trainers, the Day 3 masterclass, all training materials, individual coaching and feedback throughout, the Day 5 capstone assessment, and the post-program talent identification report submitted to MOD. The final two days are delivered at the Sky News Arabia studios, with studio access, facilities and technical support included at no additional cost. The days allocated to studio delivery are confirmed with the Ministry at the scheduling stage and may be adjusted to suit operational requirements.

Partnership Terms

Extended to the Executive Office – Ministry of Defence as a strategic partner of IMI Media Academy, approved under instruction from IMI senior management on the terms below.

- Each cohort is delivered for a minimum of 12 participants, the level at which the press conference and interview simulations hold their value.
- Four cohorts in total, the first delivered as a pilot so the program can be calibrated to the requirements of the Ministry.
- Two cohorts scheduled within the current year, the second concluding by the end of November.
- The adjusted rate is carried forward on confirmation that the three remaining cohorts are committed across the current and following year. Without that commitment, subsequent cohorts are quoted individually at the prevailing list rate.

Commercial Notes

The investment scales with the final confirmed cohort size. All figures are in AED and exclusive of 5% VAT. Classroom venue and participant logistics are provided by the Executive Office – Ministry of Defence. Valid for 30 days from the date of issue. Total investment reflects AED 13,500 per learner.
